

TRINIHIAN 1966

MR. CHARLES BALDWIN

The sands in the hourglass have run steadily and fast for the seniors of 1966. The years have passed all too swiftly until there are but a few brief moments left in which to prepare ourselves for our divergent futures. It is with these thoughts in mind that we the editorial staff have tried to capture through pictures and words, the story of this, the 1965-1966 school year.

THE TRINHIAN

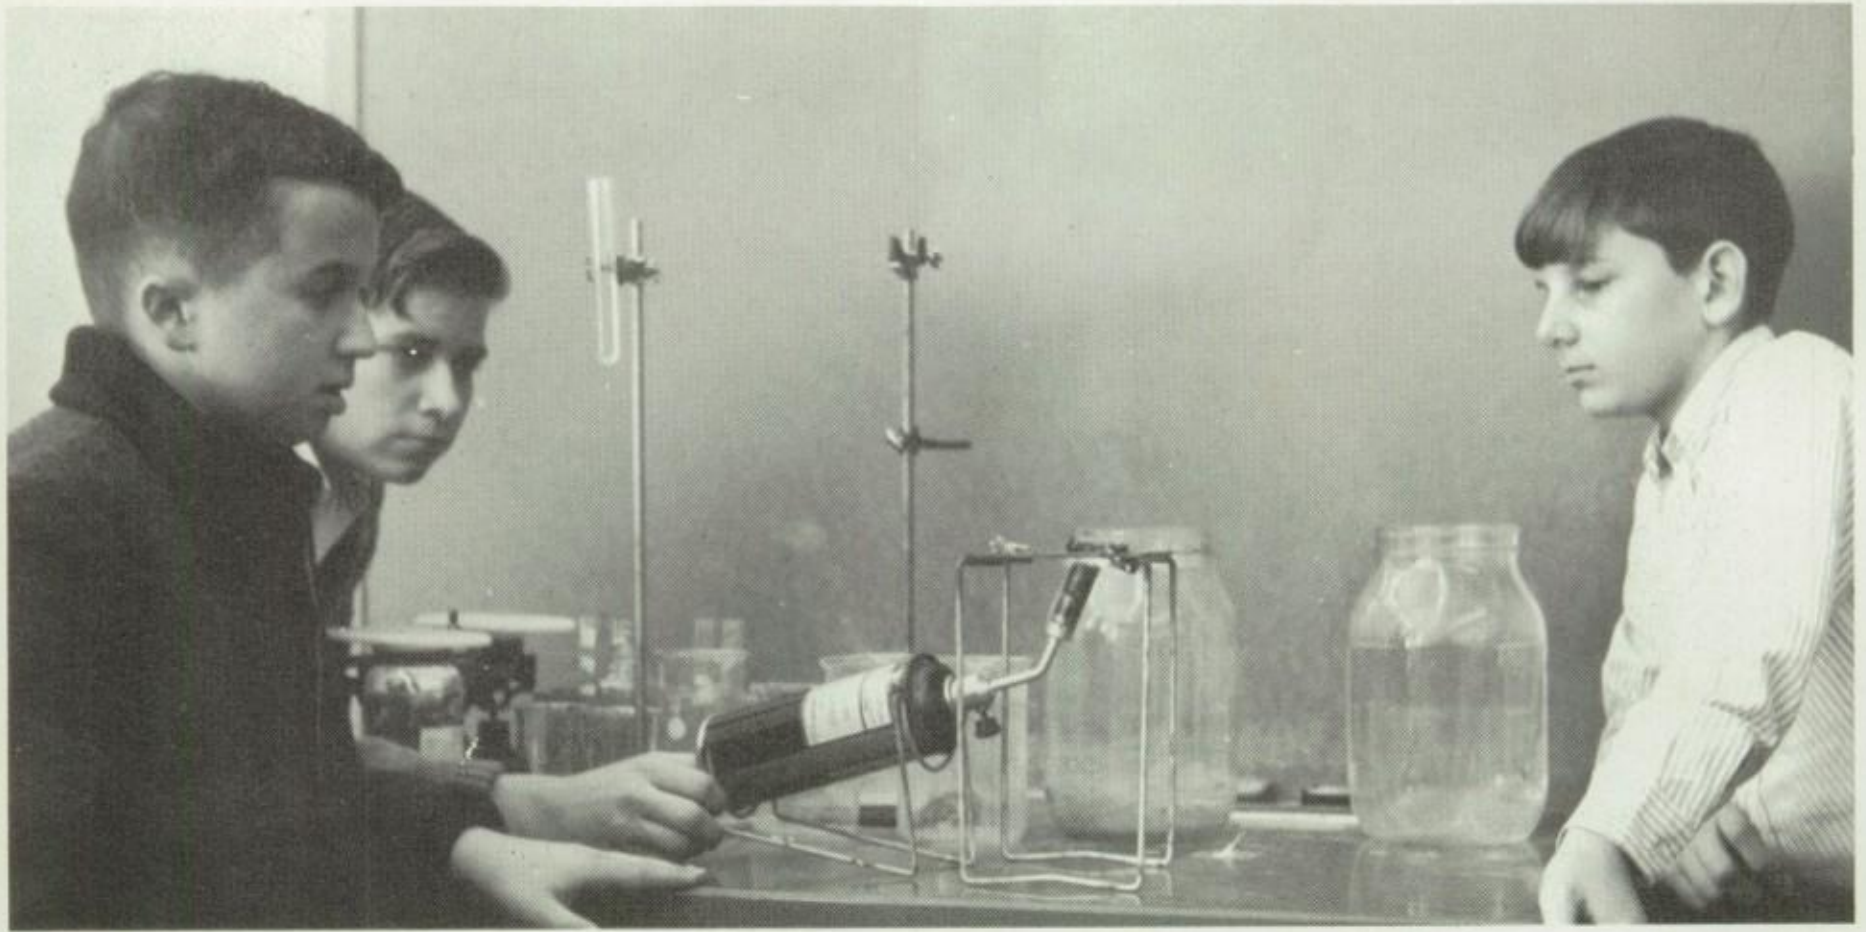

Those Special

Moments

This was the year of the big snows . . . but for the students at Trinity, this was just another reason for enjoying life more. It has been a year for festive moments in class and out . . . ordering and receiving class rings, a gala Junior-Senior prom, and homeroom orders for calling cards and caps and gowns for the seniors. It was a year for the enrichment of lasting friendships.

Work and Study

Enjoying the moment . . . this was the catalyst that caused each of us to excell in the areas of educational development. As the sands sifted, we grew in the areas of classroom panels, the vocational realm of shop skills, and the art of homemaking, our dedication to and our methods for study matured, our desire for knowledge grew in the experimental labs and our appreciation for the artistic was enhanced in the ceramics classes.

THE TRINHIAN 1966

Dedication

To one who, with whole-hearted service and sincere interest in the youth of Trinity, has contributed to our school during the past years. To one who, with kindness and sincerity, has established a personal friendship that we shall always cherish; we dedicate with respect, appreciation, and pride the 1966 TRINHLIAN to "Pop" Seward.

TENNYSON

A yearbook is more than just a sentimental collection of pictures. It is a recorded history of ourselves; our successes and our failures; our hopes and aspirations. As the years roll along, let us hope the recollections and memories take on more and more meaning.

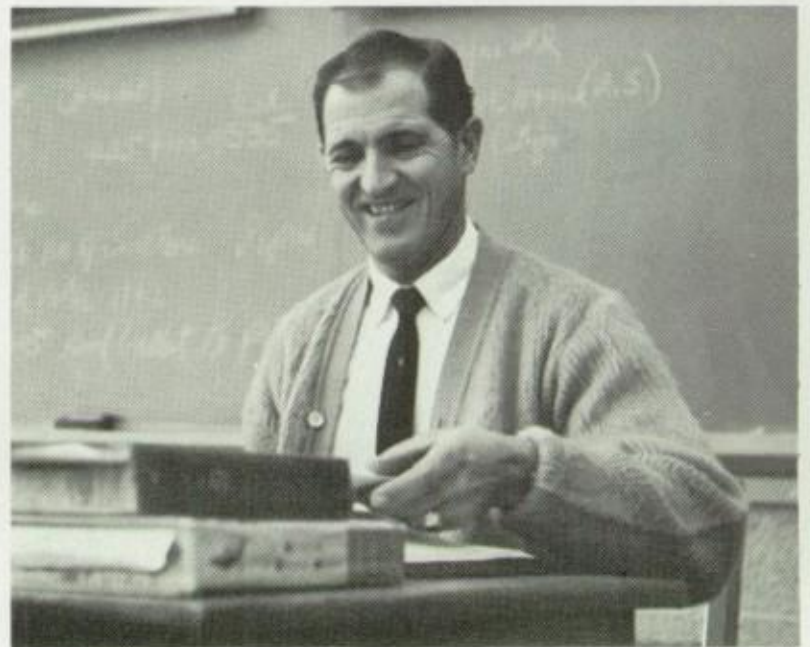

C. Wilton Hawkins

Mr. C. Wilton Hawkins
Principal

Mr. Underwood serves Trinity in many ways. Other than being the assistant principal and a member of the faculty, he is manager of the school store, director of the driver's training program, and manager of the school buses and drivers.

Mr. Underwood is the man behind the scene. He is always doing something for the benefit of the school. Many of the things he does goes unnoticed, but they are greatly appreciated. Thank you, Mr. Underwood, for your contributions.

Mr. D. S. Underwood
Assistant Principal

Mrs. Hilda Brady
Secretary

Helping to make the office one of the friendliest spots of Trinity High School, is our school secretary, Mrs. Hilda Brady. She works constantly managing the reports and affairs of the office. She is never too busy to give everyone her special smile. Her winning personality has made her a favorite with all of the students. We owe much to Mrs. Brady, who has helped to make our high school years happier through her service.

Efforts Have Been Administered by:

Mr. Charles Baldwin

A friendly word of encouragement, a helping hand extended when needed, and an interest in each and every student at Trinity describes our guidance counselor, Mr. Baldwin.

Mr. Baldwin attended Appalachian State Teacher's College and later received his AB Degree from High Point College. He has served the students at Trinity for the past two years. We sincerely hope that Mr. Baldwin will remain a part of the administration for many years to come.

Miss Anne Felton

Miss Felton attended Eastern Carolina College where she received her AB Degree. In 1962, she obtained her MA Degree from Appalachian State Teacher's College.

Miss Felton, as our librarian, assists the students at Trinity by helping them locate books and find needed information by using reference books, magazines, and the card catalogue. She has done a fine job by making the library meet the needs of each and every student.

Making Our Days Brighter

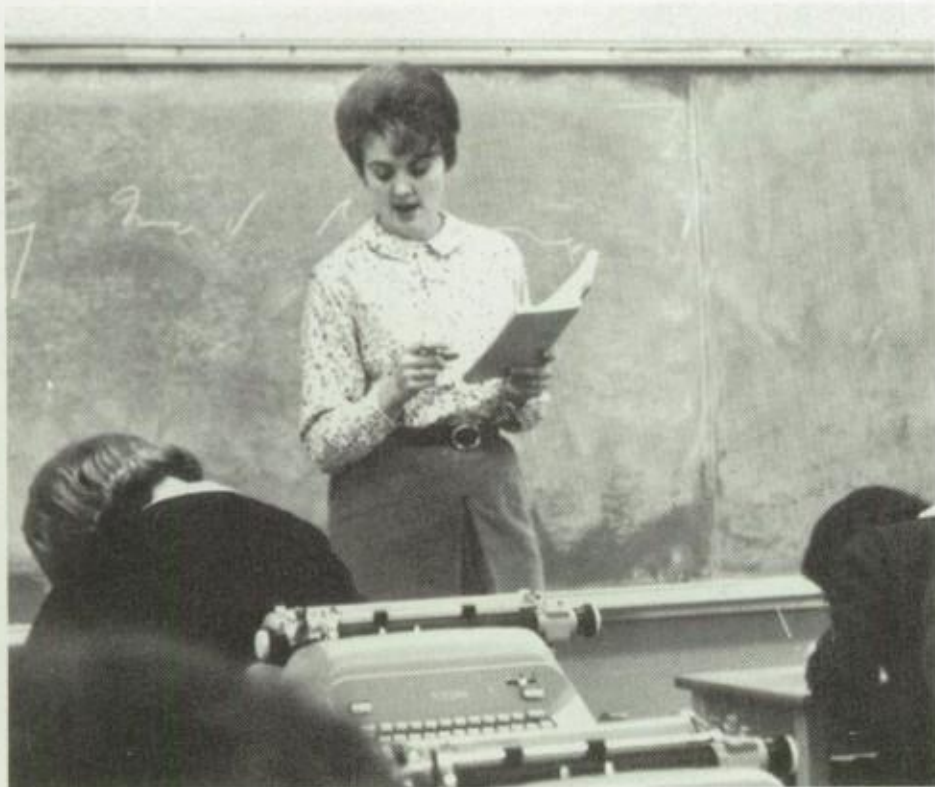

Three persons contributed greatly to the appearance of Trinity during 1965-66. Mr. Floyd Herndon, janitor, helped to keep the school running smoothly by making necessary repairs, operating the furnace, cleaning the floors, mowing the lawn, and locking the buildings.

Our maids, Mrs. Margaret Gannaway and Mrs. Feama Robertson, have also put much time and effort into the cleanliness of our school. Picking up paper, sweeping, and dusting are just a few of the jobs that keep our custodians working long after school is out each day.

CURRICULUM

More and more students at Trinity planned for the future by taking business education courses. One of the basic courses in this field was typing in which students worked hard to gain speed and accuracy. Meanwhile the shorthand students were diligently taking dictation and translating letters. The fundamentals of keeping records became familiar to bookkeeping students and knowledge became practical when students learned to use a variety of office machines.

Physical Education

Girls' physical education at Trinity this year was an active program. Gymnastics, individual and team sports, including basketball, speedball, volleyball, and softball filled the athletic calendar. Muscular co-ordination and control, physical fitness, plus much fun-filled action were worthy outcomes of the girls' season of sports.

Supplying health-giving exercise for students of all needs and abilities was the goal of the boys' physical education department. Homeroom intramural contests, physical education classes, and the varsity athletic program all combined to build well-rounded, alert individuals. They strove to build and maintain good sportsmanship both on the practice field and in competitive games.

Language

Art

Through courses in French, Trinity High students gained knowledge of a country's culture and history and learned of its contributions to the fields of art, music, literature, and philosophy. Soon they became aware of the borrowing of their own language from foreign tongues and realized the importance of proficiency in speaking and writing Romance languages.

For the interested students, Trinity offered art for the first time this year. The course offered general aesthetics and detailed instruction in the methods of using the various mediums, such as charcoal, chalks, pastels, and water-colors.

Students interested in agriculture received valuable and practical experience in construction of prized articles of wood such as cedar chests, bookcases, and gun racks.

Distributive Education is preparatory training in marketing and distribution in which the business and school cooperate to train and develop the student. Through the program, school work is connected to the job with the school giving the facts and the job providing the laboratory to use those facts.

English

English students at Trinity studied grammar, composition, and literature. Freshmen and sophomores diagramed sentences, made vocabulary lists, and read class selections from a general range of literature. Juniors wrote compositions and read American literature, while seniors made oral and written reports, studied "Macbeth", and read selections from English literature. Reading and reference work were made possible by scheduled trips to the library.

Home Economics

Home Economics helped students to meet the realities of everyday life and become trained for solving future problems. In the courses of homemaking, the girls planned programs on child development, family relationships, money management, health and home safety, foods, clothing, and housing. Through lectures, class discussions, experiments, and practical projects, the girls learned to cook for their families, plan and make many useful garments.

Librarians

The primary purpose of the librarians is that of service to the students and faculty of the school. Duties such as assisting at the charging desk, typing and filing of cards, arrangement of displays and bulletin boards, and the shelving of books are just a few of the duties which require diligent and accurate work by members.

Future Homemakers of America

Continuing their policy of "contributing to the joys and satisfactions of homemaking," the F. H. A. completed many service projects for the year. The girls helped to clean the school grounds, presented bulletin boards, sponsored the "White Christmas" program, and held a clothing drive. For extracurricular activities, the members attended the county and district rallies, the State Fair, and the State Rally in Raleigh. Another highlight was the election of Miss F. H. A.

Fall Festival

Queen for the high school was Tawana Casstevens (not pictured Mike Ayers, King).

The 1965 Fall Festival activities ending on November 20, brought a total profit of $5,100.00 to the school that participated. The king and queen contest brought in $3,700.00, while the other activities cleared approximately $1,400.00. The king and queen for the high school division were Mike Ayers and Tawana Casstevens from Mrs. Peace's homeroom with $273.61. Winners in the junior division, representing Mrs. Auman's sixth grade, were Hershel Reddeck and Debra Walker with $302.55.

King and Queen for the junior division were Debra Walker and Hershel Reddeck.

Miss Trinity 1965

The Miss Trinity Beauty Pageant and Talent Show, sponsored each year by the Ruritan Club and the high school, was held on Friday, March 19, 1965. The presentation of the various talents of singing, dancing, and the playing of musical instruments was directed by Mrs. Lelia Payne and Mr. Joseph Gamble. The beauty pageant, consisting of approximately fifty contestants, under the direction of Mrs. E. R. Kennerly and Mrs. Gurney, combined with the talent program to provide a delightful evening.

The highlight of the program was the crowning of a senior class member, Anne Hill, as Miss Trinity 1965. Darlene Floyd, a junior, was named first runner-up.

Queen of

Queen of Our Hearts
Miss Lynn Charles, escorted by Gary Welborn.

The third annual Queen of Our Hearts coronation was carried out on Saturday evening February 26, 1966. After the introduction of each contestant, escorted by a Varsity basketball player, the new queen was crowned. Chosen as Queen of Our Hearts was Miss Lynn Charles, escorted by Gary Welborn. Maid of honor was Miss Ina Spencer, escorted by Skip Lunsford.

Our Hearts

Mascots, Amy Jo White and Larry Waitman, carry the new queen's flowers and crown.

Queen of Our Hearts, Miss Lynn Charles, is crowned by Miss Sara Boggs, last year's Queen.

Central Carolina Conference Contestant

Susan Peele was chosen to represent Trinity High School in the Central Carolina Conference Tournament's annual contest to select a queen. With her charm, poise, and superb personality, she won the votes of the judges and was crowned the 1966 Tournament Queen. This year we are especially proud of Susan.

Boys' Varsity

The hustling, determination, sportsmanship, and coaching of Mr. Martin Poyner weren't quite enough for the Boys' Varsity Basketball team to have a good season. Nevertheless, the boys fought hard, and in victory or defeat, they were ever proud to wear the "blue and white" as members of the 1965-66 team.

Through vigorous practice and effort, the Varsity cheerleaders contributed much to school spirit with their enthusiastic yells. Headed by Betsy Boggs, chief, the cheerleaders cheered the Bulldogs through defeat and victory. Keeping in mind their goal of promoting school spirit and providing organized cheering for school sports, Varsity cheerleaders met with their advisors, Miss Harris and Mrs. Russell, several times a week.

Who

One can easily understand why they were chosen after a brief summary of their high school participation in organizations and activities. The following ten students make up Trinity's 1966 "Who's Who."

Donald Ervin Royster has been a member of the Beta Club for the past three years of which he was vice-president in his junior year. For two years he has been a member of the Key Club, French Club, and a Student Council representative. He is also a member of the annual staff and was a Junior Marshal. Don was a member of the team which represented Trinity on Classroom Kwiz. He also attended Western Carolina College this past summer.

Linda Lou Sheets, selected as the most intellectual of the senior class, is co-editor of the annual, vice-president of the Beta Club, past secretary-treasurer and present vice-president of the French Club, and past vice-president of the Student Council, being a member of these clubs for two years. She was a member of the F.H.A. for three years and the Glee Club for two years. As a junior, she was a candidate for Queen of Hearts, Fall Festival representative, and a Junior Marshal. This past summer she attended Western Carolina College as a delegate from Trinity.

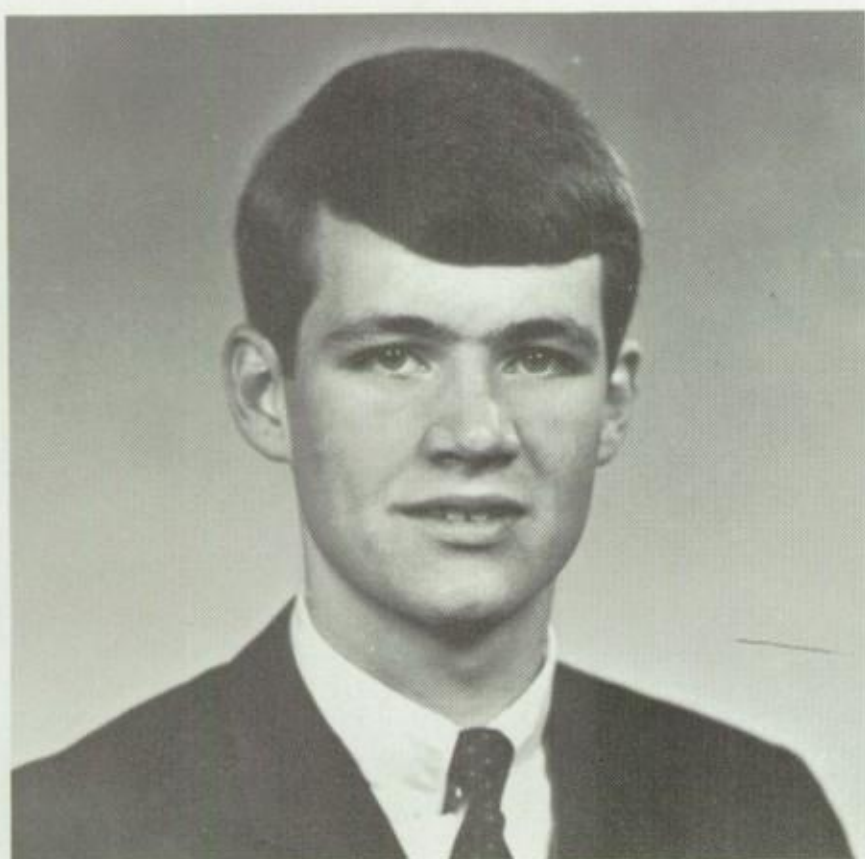

As a senior, Charles Fountain Hill is a home-room officer, member of the Dramatics Club, French Club, Key Club, and the annual staff. Fountain has played football on J.V. and Varsity. He has been a member of F.B.L.A. and F.F.A., being a former officer. He was also a member of the Beta Club in his junior year and served on the Junior-Senior Prom Committee.

Lynna Jane Lewallen has been an active member of the Beta Club for two years and a Career Day hostess for two years. She is an officer of the French Club and a member of the annual staff. She was a Student Council representative for two years. As a junior, she helped with the Junior-Senior Prom and was on the Junior Float Committee. As a freshman, she was a Fall Festival representative and was a Homecoming attendant as a senior. Lynna was also a Junior Marshal.

Robert Thomas Welborn, the senior class president, has been a class officer for two years and a member of the Key Club for two years, being an officer this year and a convention delegate as a junior. He is the co-business manager of the annual, a member of the Student Council and the French Club, in which he was an officer as a junior. He played baseball as a sophomore and was a member of the Monogram Club. He was a member of the F.F.A. for two years and was on the Junior-Senior Prom Committee. He was also a delegate to Boys' State.

Without the wonderful help, co-operation, and patience of many people, the publication of our yearbook would not have been possible. We want to say thanks to all of you.

To Mrs. Smith, who was always willing to help when we really needed her backing; to the teachers and Mr. Hawkins go hearty thanks for your patience with interrupted classes, picture sales, collection of subscription fees, and the distribution of books.

Students, thank you for putting up with our not so-efficient picture schedule and for helping us out with information.

To our annual staff, for an efficient job of typing, proofreading, for soliciting ads, and identifying the hundreds of pictures, thanks.

Linda and Sandra
